issued out of the United States District Court today in the suit brought by the United States Government against Abraham S. Rosenthal and Simon Fried, individually and as members of the firm of A. S. Rosenthal & Co., silk importers at 45 Greene street, to recover $1,500,000, the total value of silk imported by the defendants since July 1, 1889, on which it is charged proper duties were not paid.
A. S. Rosenthal and M. L. Cohen, another member of the firm, are at present on bail under criminal charges of having fraudulently evaded the payment of duties on importations of silk.
The complainant is W. Hickham Smith, special assistant to the Attorney-General. Smith said today that Government can recover the full value of the importation when the goods themselves cannot be seized in cases where legal duties have not been paid or have been paid only in part, through fraud or deceit on the part of the importers.PLAGUE'S AWFUL RAVAGES.It is officially stated at London that the deaths from the plague in India from September, 1896, to March, 1902, are known to number 322,000, and the unrecorded mortality is calculated to bring the total up to a million. The worst of it is that the plague continues to flourish. In the Bombay presidency, during the first three months of this year, the deaths number 62,007, against 17,806 in the same time last year. In the Punjab there were 516 deaths in the first quarter of 1902, 12,245 in the same time last year, and 42,788 in the single month of March this year.HOME RULE SPLIT IS WIDENEDMEETING AT FOSTER HALL LAST NIGHT WAS ENTIRELY WITH THE REFORMERS.CUPID NOMINATED LEADER BY ACCLAIM.Wilcox Was Present and Heard Himself Vigorously Denounced—Teresa Takes a Hand on the Outside.About one hundred and fifty ex-delegates and members of the Home Rule party with a considerable sprinkling of the native element, who have declared themselves in favor of the Republican or Democratic parties, assembled last night as a caucus of the bolters from the convention and the Home Rule platform. Delegate Wilcox was there also. He did not speak but remained seated throughout the two hours of the meeting listening to the denunciations by the reform party, several of whom, as Kanuha and Kaikaula were up to a short time ago, to be reckoned among the staunchest of his immediate following.With Wilcox were a few of his faction who sat by him during the meeting. Mrs. Wilcox was seated outside in the family carriage and added to the interest of the occasion by commenting vigorously upon those who had deserted the delegate's banner. After the meeting was closed she interviewed the speakers as they came that and gave them a closer insight into her valuation of them. Emmeluth she accused of having come to the house and persuaded the delegate to attend a meeting in which he was vilified from start to finish. She further accused him of having attempted to kill her Queen and her husband and finally called him "a dirty stinker."The meeting was an enthusiastic one and seemed to cement the opinions and principles of those who bolted, ended with the appointment of a committee of seven who are to review the entire political situation with reference to the Republican, Democratic, Home Rule and a possible independent party and determine which constitution and platform shall be adopted. The fight is evidently on and there are no symptoms of a relapse by the reformers.
Some of the speeches last night spoke of compromise but Prince Kaikaula while advising moderation, spoke emphatically of his final determination never to have any further connection with Delegate Wilcox or Senator Ka-lauokalani. The prince seemed to be universally acclaimed as the leader of the reformers and, from last night's meeting, those who followed him from the convention on Thursday afternoon are practically pledged to stay with him through thick and thin.After the meeting the prince stated to his immediate supporters that while he was opposed to running for delegate he was willing to do what all thought best for the good of the people, adding that if a good Republican or a good Democrat was nominated he thought that they should be supported. The acceptance of the candidacy was however urged upon the young ally and talk was made of the forming of a party to be organized under the title of the Hawaiian Independent party or a similar title. Cupid would be the head of this party and it is thought that his candidacy endorsed by both Republicans and Democrats. It is not thought that the Republicans have a candidate who would be as acceptable as Cupid. The reformers add and urge that Cupid's statement that he is too young is counterbalanced by the determination and command that he has shown during the last few days and by the choice of an experienced man who could act as adviser while undertaking a secretary's duties.Among those present last evening were Nakookoo, John Emmeluth, Bip-kane, Mossman, Long, Kaulokou, Dwight, Ewaliko, John Baker, Mehelia, Kaloa, Dreier, Markham, Poepoe, George Desha, John Wise, Palau, Ma-haule, Kupihea, Kala, Pihauia, John Bowyer, Kneeger, Kaikaula, Joe Clark, C. Andrews, W. H. Cowan and Prince Jonah Kalaianalele. R. W. Wilcox was also present.The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock by Nakookoo who had also issued the call for the meeting.
The entrance of Prince Kalaianalele was greeted with cheering. Pihauia was appointed chairman and Nakookoo secretary. The chairman briefly announced that they were there present to decide upon what platform they would stand upon after having withdrawn on Thursday afternoon from the original Home Rule convention and body under Wilcox and Kaikaula.John Wise then further announced the purposes of the meeting and summed up the objects for which those present were expected to stand. "We are going to work together," said the speaker, "for the benefit of the country and substitute a new constitution for the old one. We did not quit the party yesterday because they would not agree with us on the constitution but we worked hard for hours over the amendment and held a conference with Wilcox and Kalaianalele to arrive at a better understanding. They agreed with us and we tried to steal our rights and our constitution. Both the old and the new constitutions will be published in the Aloha Aina tomorrow and you can read and see for yourselves which is the right and which the wrong.""Prince Cupid has now in his pocket a letter written to Lord Kalaianalele speaking in bad terms of the prince and calling us 'the gang.' That shows you what class of men Wilcox and Kalaianalele represent. They sent that letter to try and injure the prince. We, the young men of the party are trying to do away with the old men and the leaders of the party engrafted upon it last year.""Prince Cupid is not looking for honors or money. He has plenty. He is only trying to help the people. If you think he is wrong, you can all go home and rejoin the party. (Cries of Aole!
Aole! No! No!). At first I thought the party would stand together and we would win but with men like Wilcox and Kalaianalele victory would be impossible. God hates them and their deceit. What then are we going to do? We cannot join the Republicans or Democrats because we have abused them neither can we join forces with the Home Rule party. If the Republicans or Democrats put up good men let us vote for them. But if the Home Rule party put up men like Wilcox and Kalaianalele or Markham let us not vote for them.
We must build a little party of our own. I will never return to the Home Rule party until they take up our constitution and retire Kalaianalelelani. Markham is a snake. Kalaianalele broke their promises in this room and their oath at the Orpheum. What is the use of staying with such men?" (None! None!)Kaikaula followed in similar strain but in bitterer phrase. He accused the delegate and chairman of having black hearts and being low lived liars adding that he would tell the people what they had done. Ewaliko of Hilo stated that he would prevent the people of that district from listening to Wilcox and his followers if they attempted to canvas that district. "I will tell them," he said, "that these are not the right kind of men. In the districts of Hamakua and Puna there is no man more beloved than Prince Cupid. He is true, honest and capable and our people will conquer through him."Emmeluth advised moderation. He said that he had watched Cupid and heartily endorsed him stating that when it came to a split he would side with the prince. He was for peace but not for peace that was too costly. He advised appointing a committee to meet the delegate and the chairman and lay before them the sense of the meeting as to the compromise. He wanted a two thirds majority in both houses, without which the hopes of municipal and county government were he claimed, very small.Nakookoo started with reference to the death of Kaula, adding that his
